Failed builder faces jail

Foreclosed on, but won't leave without fight

Editor's note: Following is the first of two articles about a local builder whose dream for a seniors complex in downtown Granite City was shot down by city rules, banking regulations and, now, the courts. The second article will appear on Wednesday.

By Dennis Grubbaugh
Managing editor

GRANITE CITY — A local builder's 14-year fight against "the system" will apparently land him in jail for six months.
But he's not going without another fight.
Darrell Crews of Granite City was sentenced last week for contempt of court for his refusal to turn over property foreclosed on by Magna Bank of Granite City.

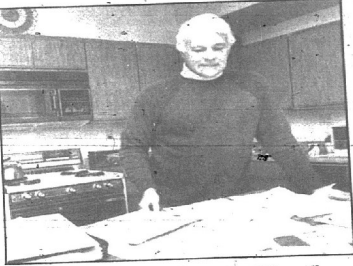

The property is located at 1245-55 Niedringhaus Ave. and has been the site of continuing struggles for Crews, who originally purchased it in 1976 with the idea of turning it into an apartment complex for the elderly.

That dream never materialized and, today, after fighting City Hall, various banks and others, Crews finds himself "flat broke" and a victim of a system that he says is badly in need of a fix.

"I can't ever be compensated for what this has done to me and my family. I just want to make sure it never happens to anybody else," he said.

Crews' problems with the Niedringhaus property began almost from the start. He said they are tied directly to a lack of cooperation and to "red tape" from public officials who did little to support his vision of development in the downtown area.

One of those parties is the one that foreclosed on

Darrell Crews of Granite City

Crews earlier this year. Magna Bank received a court order April 3, calling for Crews to vacate the premises within 30 days for failing to make payment on a $150,000 loan given for the apartment property, two nearby houses and related expenses. Crews ignored the court order and received a six-month contempt of court judgment from Associate Judge Dan Stack. His sentence is to start this Friday, July 13.

"I'm not going to accept this. To take this property away from me after these efforts, and to lock me up — I'm not going to accept it. It's going to wind up a tragedy is what's going to happen."

Crews said he had a reputation for successful renovation of projects going into the Niedringhaus work. He had rebuilt five residences on Edison Avenue and one each on Iowa and State streets and Madison Avenue.

Even with the past projects, however, he ran into logjams. Following the renovation of 2319 Edison, for example, he received a bank appraisal of $25,000 from R.M. Warford of Granite City on Feb. 2, 1976.

Just two years later, the same house received an appraisal from the Federal Housing Administration for $41,350. It sold a few months later for $45,000, Crews said. He showed the documentation to a reporter.

"On every property I've dealt with I've run into this same problem, and the market always bears me out," he said. Until the Niedringhaus problems, each property he renovated made a substantial profit, he said.

But each project required substantial effort to sway banker support. During three different city administrations and with three different banks, Crews has been trying to emphasize this point.

"The point is the city needs people like me, not Darrell Crews per se; but people like me willing to do this who have the ability."

White Rat bolts sinking ship — locals aghast

By Andy Siering

GRANITE CITY — In the aftermath of Whitey Herzog's resignation Friday afternoon as manager of the baseball Cardinals, Granite City men on the street were bemoaning the loss.
"It's a shame," said Police Chief Don Knight. "He's the best manager the Cardinals ever had."

Herzog's announcement came at 3 p.m. St. Louis Time from San Diego, where the Cardinals had won a game the day before. Herzog said he had made the decision two days earlier after the Cardinals were swept in a three-game series against the San Francisco Giants.

Herzog noted that he had turned the fortunes of the team around since joining it in mid-season of 1989. "I guess you could say I'm leaving them where I joined them — in last place."

During skipper Herzog's 10 years, 1 month, at the helm of the good ship Redbirds, the team won three National League championships ('82, '85 and '87) and one World Series ('85).

Most local people who commented blamed the front office, rather than Herzog, for the Cardinals' poor performance in recent years.

"I think we lost a good manager," said Frank Serrano, proprietor of Serrano's Lounge on 20th Street. "I don't think they gave him enough authority to pick out the necessary players."

"I don't think he got the support that he should have been given," Serrano said. "I think he was one of the great managers of the day."

Others gathered at the bar concurred.
Jim Kelahan, another of Serrano's customers, noted that "somebody had to go. The rest of them (the players) are under contract."

Besides, noted Kelahan, "He (Whitey) looked like he was fed up."

Herzog himself was philosophical about his dismissal, paraphrasing something Casey Stengel told him long ago: "If you don't own the club or die on the job, you'll either get fired or quit. So, it doesn't bother me."

A woman teller at a local bank hadn't heard the news and seemed wary of believing it. Assured that it was true, she said, "I hadn't been following (the Cardinals) that much this year. It's more interesting when they win."

Cardinals General Manager Dal Maxvill, a native of Granite City, said during the press conference that Herzog had mentioned resigning several weeks ago, but had been persuaded not to. Maxvill said he was "elated" that at least Herzog had agreed to stay on with the Cardinals' front office.

Most locals echoed Jack Buck's words in a KMOX post-mortem. Buck said "I'm disappointed and downright sad."

Two indicted for sex offenses

EDWARDSVILLE — Two Granite City men were charged with sex offenses in indictments returned by a Madison County grand jury Thursday.

Timothy P. Carney, 35, of the 2400 block of E. 24th Street in Granite City was charged with possession of child pornography.

According to the indictment, Carney on April 28 was found in possession of a video tape portraying children engaged in sexual intercourse and other lewd acts.

Court records show that Carney, a self-employed disc jockey for private parties, was snared in a United States Customs Service undercover operation dubbed "Straightface."

Carney, who records show has previous arrests in St. Louis County for carrying a concealed weapon and possession of narcotics, was arrested at his home after he accepted delivery of the tape from a U.S. Postal Service inspector posing as a

Police chase ends in crash, arrest, injuries

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

MADISON — A purse-snatching Monday started a police chase that involved four departments and ended in two wrecked cars, two injured officers and an arrest.

Arrested on multiple charges that included aggravated assault was Johnny E. Roy, 22, of Collinsville. Roy was being held Friday afternoon in lieu of $75,000 bond in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

A Madison woman told police she was putting water in her auto radiator outside her residence in the 1200 block of Iowa Street when a man in a new red Pontiac Grand Am stopped to ask her for directions. He then stole her purse, containing $50, from the front seat of her car.

Madison Patrolman John Beswick took the woman's statement and checked the area, finding nothing. But several minutes later, Beswick said, he saw a car and driver matching the description given him by the victim.

Beswick stopped the car and pulled his pistol, telling the driver to get out.

"He looked at me and shook his head 'no,' the officer said. "He started accelerating toward me," the officer said.

Beswick jumped behind his police car and then gave chase, following Roy to the old Laclede Steel complex. In the complex, he cornered the vehicle with his own, but Roy allegedly accelerated toward him again. Beswick fired two shots in front of the car.

Madison County Deputy Sheriff Harold Wilson arrived and further blocked Roy's car. Roy accelerated toward the two, and both fired several more shots at his car.

The car made it past the blockade and Wilson was slightly injured when a fragment of aluminum, either spun out by the car's tires or a bullet, struck him in a leg.

One of Roy's auto's tires had been shot out, and both officers gave chase in their cars. By this time, cars from the Venice police and the Illinois Secretary of State had arrived.

Roy was finally cornered in the EME Inc. complex after his vehicle rammed into a concrete obstruction. Venice Patrolman Albert Boyd made the arrest after wrecking his patrol car on two concrete pillars.

Boyd was injured slightly in the collision, and his patrol car suffered extensive front end damage.

Roy and Boyd were both treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.
Roy was charged with aggravated assault, fleeing to elude arrest, criminal damage to property, theft of over $500 and reckless driving.

The red 1990 Grand Am he was driving was registered to a family member.

Beswick estimated that the arrest took place within 20 minutes of the initial report.

ence degrees from BAC in law enforcement in 1976 and in security administration in 1983.

"My teachers at Belleville Area College instilled in my heart and mind that anything worth achieving is usually difficult, but that if we arm ourselves with the proper tools, anything can be achieved," said Justus.

A familiar face at college, Justus is a part-time instructor for the BAC Police Academy and for the Administration of Justice program.

Wolf pleased last session without taxes

GRANITE CITY — State Rep. Sam W. Wolf, D-Granite City, has provided some highlights from the spring session that ended June 30. "I'm proud to announce no new taxes were passed in the Illinois General Assembly," he stressed.

"Many different bills dealing with numerous topics such as recycling, family leave and tougher drunk driving penalties, are sitting on the governor's desk," Wolf added.

"None of these initiatives contains a tax increase. This is something most members of the General Assembly can be proud of."

"We had to make a lot of tough decisions pertaining to the budget but those decisions were made and now it is up to the governor to accept them."

In another matter of interest to Granite City area residents, the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College will receive $2.3 million for remodeling the Vocational Technical Center.

"Higher education is important. Updated facilities that create an educational atmosphere are a vital part of keeping a community college performing at its best," Wolf said.

Many unemployment offices throughout the state were threatened by closure, including the Granite City office, but they will remain open, Wolf gave credit for the funding to the General Assembly and House Speaker Michael Madigan's agreed-bill process.

"It would have been a terrible loss if the unemployment offices, not only in Granite City but throughout the state, had been closed. The unemployed in our area desperately need these jobs," Wolf said.

"Other highlights this year were the efforts to create the Illinois Family Leave Act, the Recycled Newspaper Act, and toughened penalties for reckless homicide while under the influence of alcohol or drugs."

"The Family Leave Act is a major step in the right direction for families in Illinois. Eight other states have already enacted similar legislation and I hope that we, as well as the federal government, can join with these states and have this become law."

"Our bill requires an employer with 50 or more employees to grant up to eight weeks of unpaid leave over a 24-month period for a birth or illness of a family member or for the adoption of a child."

"We also want to send a message to the citizens of Illinois that the Legislature is getting tougher on drunk drivers. If a person commits reckless homicide while driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, the penalty will be increased to a Class 2 felony punishable by 3-14 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. This bill also awaits the governor's signature."

Wolf said passage of the Recycled Newspaper Act "shows we care about the future. Hopefully, this bill will take us through the 1990s and beyond."

"Beginning Jan. 1, 1991, the newsprint used by newspapers in Illinois must have a recycled fiber content of at least 22 percent. By 1992, it must be 25 percent and 28 percent by 1993. This bill passed both houses and was sent to the governor."

Wolf summed up the session: "We controlled spending, tightened our belts and lived within our means."

"We have balanced the budget and held state government accountable to taxpayers who have clearly said they want no new taxes."

"That may make for a boring headline, but I think it is exactly what taxpayers want to hear," Wolf said.

CLASS ACTION NOTICE

TO ALL BLACK PERSONS WHO APPLIED FOR AND WERE WRONGFULLY REJECTED FOR JOBS WITHIN THE ST. LOUIS DIVISION OF THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL GULF RAILROAD (ICG RAILROAD) FROM JANUARY 8, 1976 THROUGH JULY 31, 1981

Robert E. Minter, Plaintiff,

Illinois Central Gulf Railroad Company, Defendant

Civ. No. 813006

NATURE OF THE CLASS. The class consists of all black persons who applied and were wrongfully rejected for jobs with the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad in the St. Louis Division, then consisting of portions of the state of Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee between January 8, 1976 and July 31, 1981. The Court has ruled this action to be maintained as a class action.

NATURE OF THE ACTION. The plaintiffs are a class of black applicants for railroad jobs who brought a civil rights class action suit against Illinois Central Gulf Railroad alleging failure to hire them because of their race. This case was filed on January 8, 1981, in the U. S. District Court in East St. Louis, Illinois, by the attorney for the class, Jerome J. Schlichter, seeking backpay, injunctive relief, damages, and punitive damages. The Railroad throughout this litigation continues to deny discrimination and denies it owes damages to the class. On October 9, 1987, the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit reversed a U.S. District Court decision and ruled in favor of the class, finding that the Railroad had discriminated against the class. The U.S. Supreme Court denied review. The District Court will now decide the damages and money to be awarded to the class members.

LEGAL STATUS OF CLASS MEMBERS. You may be a member of this class and if so your rights may be affected by this litigation. This notice is furnished to inform you of this lawsuit so you can decide what steps you may wish to take in relation to it.

NOW THEREFORE TAKE NOTICE:

IF YOU WANT TO REMAIN IN THIS CASE YOU MUST COMPLETE AND RETURN THE ATTACHED RESPONSE FORM SO IT IS RECEIVED BY THE CLERK OF THE COURT ON OR BEFORE AUGUST 1, 1990 OR BE FOREVER BARRED. If you have already sent in a RESPONSE FORM you do not have to send in this response form.

If you have any questions about this litigation or need additional response forms call or write class counsel:

Floyd Jordan, Carl Aldridge, Zane Miller and LeRoy Stark, all members of the Chouteau Township Senior Citizens Ole Scouters, who collectively represented 150 years of the Scouting spirit, visited the "Camp Alive" event which was held in late June at Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo.

They visited several campsites, inspected the camp's famous spring and the Health Lodge and enjoyed a dinner cooked by the notorious camp cook, Al Sanders. Dinner consisted of barbecued steaks, corn cooked in the husk, cole slaw, baked beans and watermelon.

After the meal, they attended the Order of the Arrow Call Out, which features Scouters with special camping skills. At the call out, the men watched history in the making as Geneva Hellrich became the first woman ever to be elected to serve with the Order of the Arrow.

Hellrich will serve as the camp nurse.

Tod and Ashley returned with their grandparents to Mitchell for a two-week vacation. The children will also visit their maternal grandparents, Bill and Iris Curtis of Granite City.

Henry and Tommie McNeely, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Jim (Carol) McNeely, enjoyed a week vacationing together.

They attended a performance of The Shepherd of the Hills at Branson, Mo., and the Great Passion Play at Eureka Springs, Ark. They also visited Henry's sister, Betty McGraw, in Dyersburg, Tenn.

Connie Baugh has returned from Panama Beach, Fla., where she spent two weeks vacationing as the guest of her friend, David Noel, and his parents, David and Norene Noel, his grandparents, Jack and Ollie Neacher, and his sister, Sheila Noel, and friend, Herb Heaton.

The group enjoyed swimming, sun bathing and snorkeling. They also attended the dog races at the Ebro Race Track in Ebro, Fla.

La Rue Crawford of East Chain of Rocks Road is announcing the birth of her great-grandson. The infant is the son of her granddaughter and grandson-in-law, Christie and Calvin Barton of Granite City.

The new arrival has been named Christopher J. Barton.

How Much Does Alcoholism Affect Your Family?

Probably more than you realize. Because in most chemical dependent situations, you're so busy trying to help the dependent, you don't even realize the feelings of confusion, anger and frustration that are silently destroying your family structure.

But you can't keep those feelings inside. Because, until you come to grips with them, you'll never be able to help your loved one come to grips with his dependency.

The Chemical Dependence Program at St. Elizabeth's offers hope not only to the chemical dependent, but to your family as well. Our family oriented chemical dependence program is comprehensive, convenient, confidential, and most importantly, successful. And it's right here in Belleville.

A preliminary evaluation of your situation is available at no charge. Just call your physician or call St. Elizabeth's at 234-2120.

EXCAVATION BEGINS: Uncovering former gasoline storage tanks is the first step in changing the former Novoty Auto Sales into a future QuikTrip. The next step at the site, located at Madison and Niedringhaus avenues, will be removal of the tanks and surrounding petroleum-contaminated soil. A QuikTrip store and a Jack-in-the-Box restaurant are planned to open this fall at the location.

Builder

"And they need to be hacked. I can't do this without financing." "If (well-known local builder) Ralph Korte had been doing all this in Granite City, he'd still be making pig pens."

Crews spent two years trying to raise the necessary money to rehab the Niedringhaus property. He had bought the 14-unit apartment building on contract from owner Esther Wiesman for $85,000, had made a large down payment and had gone to local banks for a $47,000 loan to cover the rest. However, he couldn't convince any Granite City lenders that his vision of a senior complex would work.

After striking out in Granite City, he went to Germania Federal, Alton, which sent out appraiser Paul Pope. Pope arrived at a $125,000 estimate on the value of the apartment building, nearly three times the loan Crews was seeking.

Still, Germania declined to loan him the money. A loan officer wrote a letter to Crews saying Germania would only loan him the money after he finished the renovation.

Next, Crews went to Roosevelt Federal in St. Louis. That institution sent out both a representative of the bank and Leon Strauss, an employee of Pantheon Corp., a St. Louis development firm that had rehabbed the Fox Theater and several blocks in St. Louis' Central West End.

Strauss, considered an expert in property rehabilitation, told Crews the senior project was "a colossal idea."

However, Roosevelt Federal asked Crews to pay for expensive engineering studies on the apartment complex before it would consider making the loan. Crews wasn't willing to risk another $5,000 investment.

Finally, running out of money and still wanting to finish the renovation, Crews sold his home at 2422 Edison and moved his wife and son into the apartment building.

By this time, Crews had rehabbed one unit of the 14, leasing it to senior citizen Margaret Belt of Granite City. She was the first of what he hoped would be many tenants.

The plan didn't quite work. Coming Wednesday: Why he failed.

Bond for Carney was set at $75,000 by Circuit Judge Edward Ferguson. A preliminary hearing for Carney was waived Friday during an arraignment where he entered a plea of innocent.

Associate Judge Michael Meenan set Aug. 6 as the trial date for Carney.

Another indictment was issued Thursday for aggravated criminal sexual assault, naming Craig S. York, 26, of the 2700 block of Michigan Avenue, Granite City. York, an employee of Granite City Steel, is accused of raping and sodomizing a 15-year-old girl May 31 while the girl's parents were away from home for shopping.

According to court records, the girl came out of the bathroom in the home and was confronted by York, who had entered the home without permission.

York is accused of forcing the girl into a bedroom where the attack took place.

York was initially charged for the offense in informations issued by the Madison County State's Attorney's Office. A spokesman at office said Friday the case was taken to a grand jury in order to avoid having to prove probable cause at a pre-trial hearing.

Circuit Judge Andreas Matosian set bond for York at $40,000.

Memorial Mass for Maria M. Bosich, 76

A memorial Mass for Maria M. Bosich, 76, of Granite City, will be celebrated at 9 a.m. Tuesday, July 10, at Holy Family Church, 2900 Washington Ave.

Mrs. Bosich, 76, a lifetime resident of Granite City, died at her home on June 26, 1990. Her body was donated to Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis.

The family requests memorials to the American Heart Association. Irwin Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Weather reports to boast more electronic gadgetry

By Ian MacBryde
For the Journal

The bizarre war of weather gimmickry in St. Louis has escalated. No sooner had we begun to acquire a tolerance for Doppler Radar—and all the hype that goes with it—than we are faced with a new electronic gadget that can "pinpoint lightning strikes."

KMOV-TV (Channel 4) has tapped into a national network of lightning-detecting antennas. "I really think it will be helpful in severe storm warnings," Channel 4 meteorologist Mike Nelson said.

Doppler radar detects rain, not lightning, Nelson said, pointing out you can have one without the other. The lightning detector apparently shows viewers where lightning actually is striking the ground in our area—and far beyond.

Nelson, who generally provides a reasonably straightforward and informative forecast, was moved to pronounce the capability "another first for St. Louis brought to you by News 4" on the station's 10 p.m. broadcast June 28.

That night the device was used to show us that lightning was stalking the countryside near Columbia, Mo. If I had been in Columbia at the time I would have known that an electrical storm was in progress.

Since I wasn't I was perfectly happy to take Nelson's word for it. I didn't need an electronic display. But I don't speak for other viewers.

Anchor Larry Connors chimed in to assure the viewer that the electronic wizardry could reveal lightning as far away as the Illinois-Kentucky border. I can't believe that anyone listening really cared.

Nevertheless, Nelson said the lightning-detection system will allow him to track lightning through remote areas and make a better evaluation of the severity of a storm. A great virtue of the system is that "it's inherently understandable to the public," Nelson said.

This means, I think, that he can show lightning strikes on his map and the viewers will not be interested even if they will not be in any way affected. That is what a lot of television weather is about.

Lightning-detection systems are likely to show up on other stations. In fact, KTVI (Channel 3) should have one in place any day, said Channel 2 chief meteorologist Dave Murray.

Some of the nicest touches in any local newscast are Paul Schankman's "Backroad Adventures," which will show up throughout the summer on the 10 p.m. Thursday newscast on Channel 2.

Schankman, who is by any yardstick one of the finest writers in local television, has the knack of turning rather ordinary people and things into very special features.

Schankman avoids the unfortunately popular gimmick of making the feature fit his personality.

Rather, he gets out of the way and allows the viewer to see the subject of the story for what it really is.

Local soccer legend Ty Keough has done a great job as an analyst for TVT's coverage of the World Cup. Unfortunately, the coverage has not been uniformly good.

Keough has supplied some interesting observations that can be appreciated by the novice soccer fan or the expert. For example, in the West Germany-Czechoslovakia quarterfinal match, Keough pointed out the positioning of the Czech defense that allowed them to survive several desperate situations in which the goalkeepers were beaten but the Germans did not score.

Keough, of course, knows of what he speaks. He was the captain of the U.S. national team in his playing days, and currently coaches Washington University's men's soccer team. TNT, which has had some problem in broadcasting the games because of a fixation on showing graphics while the action continues and breaking for commercials at the wrong time, would do well to hang on to Keough if the network plans to get into soccer in any big way.

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

3 Warriors lead PSG boys team

By Jim Woodcock
Staff writer

Of the four Southern Region soccer teams that compete in the Prairie State Games, the scholastic boys club has easily proved over the years to be the most consistent and successful.

There is a change in the formula this year, though. For opponents, it is a change for the worse.

The 1990 scholastic edition features three members of state champion Granite City High School. Few Warriors have tried out for the team in the past, but this year All-America midfielder John Van Buskirk, plus defenders Matt Cook and Jerry Robertson, all figure to be starters.

Also on the roster are two talented St. Louis University High players who live in the metro east — J.J. Ossola of Collinsville and Jamie Ponsanski of Edwardsville.

Added three players from Collinsville and standouts from surrounding high schools, and the scholastic team's chances at winning a third straight gold medal in action Thursday through Sunday appear strong.

"We got on top of getting in touch with these players early," said scholastic coach Phil Aleman, who is also the varsity coach at Belleville East. "We wrote letters and talked with coaches. We had 54 kids out, by far the largest turnout ever."

"I attended a meeting in April, and the other regions are gunning for us. We're aware of that. Pioneer felt they should have won it last year. We're just going up there with the attitude that we'll be in the medal round."

All-America goaltender Eddie L'Hommiedieu of O'Fallon will start, with Belleville East's Bryan White as his backup. Cook and Robertson will be joined defensively by Ponsanski, Ethan Forchett of Collinsville, Chris Seim of Triad and Ty Howton of Edwardsville.

The focus at midfield will be on Van Buskirk, who will have help from Ossola, Jim Stone of Alton-Marquette and Simon Weiss of Highland.

"Eddie will do a fine job for us in goal," said Aleman, who will be assisted by former Collinsville High JV coach Charles "Tuna" Suarez. "If I have one concern defensively, we may not be as dominant in the air as we have been. We'll try to do some things to help Eddie out in that respect."

"At midfield, any one of those guys is capable. It isn't as if we'll have to depend on Van Buskirk and Stone."

Collinsville's Scott Siegel, his school's all-time goal leader, will be the offensive target man. Figuring to start with him on offense will be his CNS team-mate, Poncho Cerna, and Alan Grove of Alton.

Also scheduled for offensive duty are Jay Ross of Edwardsville, Chad Owsley of Roxana and Scott Baldus, a Collinsville resident who plays for Althoff.

"We're capable of putting the ball in the net," Aleman said.

"Last year we were concerned about our offense and we ended up outscoring everyone there 14-2. I think we can get that kind of offense again."

"And the kids are versatile. Everyone can go offense or defense. We can go 4-3-3, 3-4-3 or even five across. That's what I like about this team."

The team will play 2 p.m. matches on the University of Illinois campus on Thursday (Blue-Gray), Friday (Blackhawk) and Saturday (Windy City).

The championship round in all four soccer divisions is scheduled for Sunday.

"We lost only 3-1 to Busch the other day, and we didn't have all of our players there," said Aleman, who is in his third season with the team. "Most of the kids are involved in other things as well this summer."

"We're working out Tuesdays and Thursdays. As far as the schedule up there, it is to our benefit to not have two games in one day as we had in the past. So we're pretty confident."

CHAMPIONS AGAIN: The Busch Soccer Club won the Missouri Challenge Cup for Under 14 girls recently. Three Granite City girls, including Staci Dowdy (left) and Penny Kreher (right) play for the team. Not pictured is Harper Mance. Busch beat Kolping 2-1 for the title May 24, becoming the first team ever to win the Challenge Cup three years in a row. The team was known as NORCO the previous two years and also won the NORCO tournament for 15-year-olds. Busch also won the St. Louis Youth Soccer Association fall and spring leagues. Over the past four years, the team has a 220-25 record. They will be competing in a regional tournament in Michigan on July 13-17 against teams from 14 midwestern states. Dowdy, Kreher and Mance are all 13. Staci goes to Coolidge, Kreher to Grigsby and Mance to Holy Family. Dowdy scored the goal which put Busch into the Challenge Cup finals. All the girls have been coached growing up by Clint Potter of Granite City.

KHOORY CHAMPIONS: The CCU Tigers went 10-0 and won the 1990 Atom Khoory League tournament in Maryville on June 23-24. Team members included Dana Timmons, Devin Mayes, Matt Mercer, Brad Hutchings, Randy Bergfield, James Feldman, John Taylor, Christopher Morris, Curtis Gray, Jeff Jordan and Jason Ghores. The manager is John Timmons and the coaches are Winston Mayes and Tom Karginaki. Special thanks go to Bob Stephens Custom Cabinets Unlimited in Madison, the team's sponsor.

Miners blasted; Triplets see rain

The Miners lost their third straight game Thursday as the Sauget Wizards handed them a 16-1 thumping at Varsity Field.

It was Granite City's first loss in Metro East Night League play this year. The Miners are 6-1 in the Night League while Sauget improved to 5-3 in the league and 15-11 overall. Granite City is 16-8 heading into Sunday's Mon-Clair League double-header against East St. Louis.

Jeff Junker and Dave Meyer combined to drive in seven runs as Scott LeVault (2-4) took the loss. The Wizards struggled in June, but are hot now after winning the Valmeyer Tournament with a 9-6 win over Waterloo on Wednesday.

The Triplets were rained out of their District 22 game at Collinsville on Thursday. That game will be made up in Collinsville at 8 p.m. July 14. Post 113 hosts Highland on Monday and travels to Cahokia on Tuesday.

Local skaters attend Michigan Tech camp

Michael and Christopher Angle, Jason Crites and Steven Sinde of Granite City attended the Michigan Technological University Hockey Development Center the last week of June to improve their hockey skills.

At the camp, players sharpened stickhandling and skating skills through rigorous drills and challenging scrimmages. The viewed instructional films and videotaped scrimmages to learn new strategies.

Michigan Tech, home of three NCAA championship hockey teams, started the development camps 19 years ago under legendary hockey coach John MacInnes. Some of the best players and coaches from the U.S. and Canada provide individual instruction for players ages 9-17.

Pay Yourself First, Automatically.

If you find that your money sometimes gets sidetracked before it reaches your savings account, you need the Magnafied Savings Plan.

The Magnafied Savings Plan lets you pay yourself first, automatically. So, whether you're saving for a college education, a down payment on a home or that special vacation, reaching your goal becomes a little easier.

The Magnafied Savings Plan offers:

Convenience. Scheduled deposits are automatically transferred from your Magna Checking to your Magnafied Savings Plan. You won't need to take the time to come into the bank or risk missing a deposit.

Flexibility. Magnafied Savings lets you save at your own pace. You decide the amount and the number of deposits you make each month.

Higher Interest. The interest rate on the Magnafied Savings Plan is substantially higher than the rate paid on Magna's Regular Savings.

Terms. The Magnafied Savings Plan has a two-year maturity. A minimum of $1,000 must be saved prior to the maturity date. Substantial penalties for early withdrawal and failure to meet the $1,000 minimum savings requirement.

Make reaching your savings goals a little easier. Pay yourself first with the Magnafied Savings Plan.

Owners of assets sought

GRANITE CITY — State Rep. Sam W. Wolf, D-Granite City, is trying to locate constituents who may be the owners of lost or abandoned assets or property.

Wolf is working with the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions (DFI) in a cooperative effort to find the owners of unclaimed assets under the Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act.

"Many area residents have assets waiting to be claimed," Wolf said. "Most claims will be assets of at least $100."

"Under the Act, after assets have been abandoned or inactive for seven years the holder of the property must attempt to locate the owner. If the effort fails, the assets are turned over to the Department of Financial Institutions. The department then holds the assets indefinitely until they are claimed by the owner or heirs of the estate."

The address for the Department of Financial Institutions is 500 Ues Park Place, Suite 500, Springfield, Ill. 62718-1094. Inquiries must be in writing and include the name and address and county of residence of the claimant.

Hardee's menu expansion to add jobs, tax revenue

By Jack Crosby
 Staff writer

Hardee's Restaurants is adding fried chicken and biscuits to its menu, a move that will increase the chain's share of the dinner market and create several hundred new jobs at 107 St. Louis-area Hardee's restaurants, officials of the chain said Friday.

The new jobs will mean $5 million in salaries for the Missouri portion of the metropolitan area and $1.5 million in salaries for workers in Metro East, Hardee's officials said during a press conference at the Hardee's restaurant at Broadway and Chouteau avenues, St. Louis. Yearly sales of the new product should generate more than $1.5 million in sales-tax revenue for the area, they said.

"We are principally a breakfast and lunch business," said Nancy Abram, Region IV director of marketing for Hardee's. "Fresh fried chicken will put us in the dinner market on a large scale."

Introduction of the new product was made possible by Hardee's acquisition three months ago of the Roy Rogers Fried Chicken corporation, which operated franchises in the Northeast, Abram said.

Fried chicken first became available at eight area Hardee's on June 15; eight additional restaurants per day have added the new product to their menus since that day. All of the Hardee's restaurants will be serving fried chicken by Aug. 1, she said.

Prices of the new chicken range from $2.19 for a two-piece snack to $17.99 for a 20-piece pack.

Nursing-home insurance can help pay expenses

By Roger McGrath
 Correspondent

The good news: On average, American men now 65 years old will live 16 more years, and women 65 will live an additional 21 years, according to government statistics.

The bad news: 40 percent of those now age 65 will need long-term care at some future date, health-care experts predict.

At a cost of $25,000 to $30,000 for one year of nursing-home care, the financial outlook is particularly gloomy.

"It gets expensive," says Robert E. Hynes Jr., of the Bittner Insurance Agency.

Medicare (the government medical plan for senior citizens) and private health insurers combined pay just 3 percent of nursing-home costs, according to the Health Care Federation of America, Washington D.C.

To qualify for Medicaid (the government's health program for low-income individuals), which pays 46 percent of the nation's annual nursing-home costs, "you have to be broke," the retirement nest egg exhausted, Hynes says.

Patients and their families tackle the biggest part of the annual nursing-home bill — 51 percent, according to the Health Care Federation of America.

Of married couples with one spouse in long-term care, 55 percent of the couples are impoverished within one year, and 90 percent are impoverished virtually within a lifetime of savings — if the nursing-home stay lasts two years, according to the Health Insurance Association of America, Washington D.C.

A two-year stay in a nursing home is not unusual. Though the average stay is 408 days, 40 percent of patients remain 2½ years, HIAA reports.

Is there any help? Enter nursing-home insurance. These policies, first offered in the late 1980s, pay all or part of the costs of care in a long-term facility.

But Hynes warns: "It is extremely difficult to understand how the policies work, what illness and care they'll pay for. I even have a hard time."

Hynes advises that people read the fine print on policies. If purchasing a policy, buy "as quick as you can, as much as you can for as long as you can," he says.

By quick, Hynes means age. A policy that pays $75 a day, starting 30 days after being admitted to the nursing home, and continues to pay for three years, costs a 55-year-old person $307 per year, a 65-year-old $1,772, a 75-year-old $3,559.

Hynes' definition of quick extends to the nursing-home insurance itself. Policies begin paying off 20, 100, even 365 days after entering the nursing home.

He recommends the 20-day wait. "Start the meter running as quickly as you can; start collecting benefits right away," he says.

In a $75-a-day facility, Hynes figures the difference between a 20-day and 100-day waiting period is $6,000 ($75 times 80 days).

The waiting period is like a deductible. The larger the deductible, the lower the premium.

The $75, three-year policy costs a 55-year-old person $437.50 if he selects the 100-day wait; $407 if he waits 365 days to begin collecting.

The average St. Louis-area nursing home costs about $60 to $75 a day; top-of-the-line facilities are $100 per day, Hynes says. An inflation rider to the policy will keep the daily benefit in step with climbing costs.

"The thing you have to understand is that this is new to the insurance industry," Hynes says. As insurers gain more experience with these policies, "they're really starting to tighten up on things," especially details of what is covered by the nursing home insurance.

Some policies require that the insured individual must be admitted to a hospital, and then transferred to a nursing home, with a certain number of days for the insurance to pay benefits.

Yet, that is not the path most people take to a nursing home, Hynes says.

Most often, a senior citizen enters custodial care because "they just can't handle it at home anymore," he says. They need assistance with the activities of daily living, such as getting out of bed and dressed, walking and eating, he says.

As a result, several major insurance companies recently have adopted the "activities of daily living" standard so that "now you can go straight into custodial care and be covered," he says.
